Description

As an ODH intern, you'll be placed within a specific program area based on your interests and qualifications. You'll assist with meaningful projects, conduct research, analyze data, and contribute to initiatives that shape public health policy and programs. Expect to participate in meetings, workshops, and training sessions, allowing you to learn firsthand from experienced professionals and gain valuable insights into the public health field.

Responsibilities

- Assisting with program planning, implementation, and evaluation.
- Conducting research on public health issues and trends.
- Analyzing data and preparing reports to inform policy decisions.
- Contributing to outreach and education initiatives.
- Providing administrative and technical support to program staff.

Qualifications

- Currently enrolled in an accredited college or university.
- Minimum GPA of 3.0 required (may vary depending on the program).
- Strong communication, analytical, and problem-solving skills.
- Ability to work independently and as part of a team.
- Proficient in Microsoft Office Suite, with additional software skills preferred depending on the program.
- U.S. citizenship or valid work authorization required.
- Passionate about public health or related fields.

Experience

- Prior internship or volunteer experience in public health or a related field preferred, but not required.
- Strong academic performance demonstrates your ability to excel in the internship.

Skills

- Excellent written and verbal communication skills.
- Ability to manage time effectively and meet deadlines.
- Strong research and data analysis skills.
- Teamwork and collaboration skills.
- Adaptability and willingness to learn new technologies and processes.

Job Benefits

- Gain valuable real-world experience in public health and contribute to meaningful work.
